After completing this course, you will know how to:

Identify the capabilities of Flash CS4 and the files it generates; identify components of the Flash CS4 environment; and use the Help window.

Create a file from a template; set Stage properties; import images; create text blocks, drawing objects, and shapes; apply fills and strokes; transform shapes; combine objects and shapes; and create and modify freeform shapes.

Create, name, and manage layers; identify components of the Timeline; create frames, keyframes, and blank keyframes; and control the duration of a Flash application.

Create custom colors and gradients; save custom swatches; and apply transparency, filters, and the Soften Fill Edges command.

Create frame-by-frame and motion tween animations; control the acceleration and deceleration of a tweened animation; apply color effects; create a movie clip animation; create static buttons and rollover buttons; and attach audio to buttons.

Create content that's accessible to screen readers; optimize and test a Flash application; and publish a Flash application as a SWF file and insert it into a Web page.

Who should attend?

This course would be suitable for anyone who is interested in creating animations. The skills and knowledge acquired in our Adobe Flash workshop are sufficient to be able to use and operate the software at an efficient level.

Course Pre-requisites:

Adobe Flash assumes little or no knowledge of the software. However, it would be beneficial to have a general understanding of personal computers and the Windows operating system environment.
